

Schrom Boy's Home

provides care for male students ages 13-through 18-years of age requiring a small therapeutic intimate home-style setting. The non-threatening atmosphere is an ideal situation for students to heal, grow, and learn.

SBH believes that therapy is about relationships. As a result, we provide one on one clinical attention for your son. Our small size allows us the luxury of being creative and individualized as we work with you and your son.

SBH is a caring, teaching, family-oriented approach that allows adolescents and their families opportunities for healing and rebuilding their lives. We understand the need for a structured, yet loving, environment fostering hope, belief in self, and developing independence. Our intimate family-style setting provides a safe and supportive atmosphere where the individual needs of students become most important.

Our students range in age from 13-18 and are taught to identify and resolve personal issues and develop positive, healthy lives. Through discussions, modeling, counseling, and daily accountability, your son will examine behavior patterns and learn to make productive choices.

SBH is a small, unique, family oriented, therapeutic program. We pride ourselves on the one on one personal attention, creative and individualized treatment, and interpersonal relationships given to your child.

SBH is dedicated to creating a successful therapeutic environment within a home like setting. By creating honest, open, positive relationships, your child has the opportunity to address those concerns and obstacles impeding them from being happy and proactive with their individual lives.

Students are provided opportunities for confidence building through daily success experiences, attendance at the local high school, community service, after-school activities, employment, etc. Our focus is on teaching—so every moment becomes an opportunity to educate. We work with students believing that each child deserves opportunities — to practice healthy choice-making in a wholesome environment.

John & Julia Schrom

With over 25 years as a licensed therapist, John engages students by building healthy relationships and challenging self-limiting beliefs through introspection and discovering their true self.

Julia brings guidance and nurturance to the students' lives. As a former Parent Coordinator, she provides parents with a solid connection to their sons.

Together, John & Julia provide a caring and loving therapeutic home environment where students learn and heal.
