

GREAT VESPERS ON NOVEMBER 15
THE HOLY APOSTLE AND EVANGELIST MATTHEW

MARTYR EPHYGENIA OF ETHIOPIA, DISCIPLE OF ST. MATTHEW; FULVIAN, PRINCE OF ETHIOPIA

Priest: Blessed is our God, always, now and ever, and unto ages of ages.

Choir: Amen.

Come, let us worship and fall down before God our King.

Come, let us worship and fall down before Christ, our King and our God.

Come, let us worship and fall down before Christ Himself, our King and our God.

THE PSALM OF INTRODUCTION—PSALM 103

Reader: Bless the Lord, O my soul; O Lord my God, Thou hast been magnified exceedingly. Confession and majesty hast Thou put on, Who coverest Thyself with light as with a garment, Who stretchest out the heaven as it were a curtain; Who supporteth His chambers in the waters, Who appointeth the clouds for His ascent, Who walketh upon the wings of the winds, Who maketh His angels spirits, and His ministers a flame of fire.

Who establisheth the earth in the sureness thereof; it shall not be turned back forever and ever. The abyss like a garment is His mantle; upon the mountains shall the waters stand. At Thy rebuke they will flee, at the voice of Thy thunder shall they be afraid.

The mountains rise up and the plains sink down, unto the place where Thou hast established them. Thou appointedst a bound that they shall not pass, neither return to cover the earth. He sendeth forth springs in the valleys; between the mountains will the waters run. They shall give drink to all the beasts of the field; the wild asses will wait to quench their thirst. Beside them will the birds of the heaven lodge, from the midst of the rocks will they give voice.

He watereth the mountains from His chambers; the earth shall be satisfied with the fruit of Thy works. He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and green herb for the service of men, to bring forth bread out of the earth; and wine maketh glad the heart of man. To make his face cheerful with oil; and bread strengtheneth man's heart.

The trees of the plain shall be satisfied, the cedars of Lebanon, which Thou hast planted. There will the sparrows make their nests; the house of the heron is chief among them. The high mountains are a refuge for the harts, and so is the rock for the hares.

He hath made the moon for seasons; the sun knoweth his going down. Thou appointedst the darkness, and there was the night, wherein all the beasts of the forest will go abroad; young lions roaring after their prey, and seeking their food from God. The sun ariseth, and they are gathered together, and they lay them down in their dens. Man shall go forth unto his work, and to his labor until the evening. How magnified are Thy works, O Lord! In wisdom hast Thou made them all.

The earth is filled with Thy creation. So is this great and spacious sea, wherein are things creeping innumerable, small living creatures with the great. There go the ships; there this leviathan, whom Thou hast made to play therein. All things wait on Thee, to give them their food in due season; when Thou givest it them, they will gather it. When Thou openest Thy hand, all things shall be filled with goodness; when Thou turnest away Thy face, they shall be troubled.

Thou wilt take their spirit, and they shall cease; and unto their dust shall they return. Thou wilt send forth Thy Spirit, and they shall be created; and Thou shalt renew the face of the earth.

Let the glory of the Lord be unto the ages; the Lord will rejoice in His works. Who looketh on the earth and maketh it tremble, Who toucheth the mountains and they smoke. I will sing unto the Lord throughout my life, I will chant to my God for as long as I have my being.

May my words be sweet unto Him; I will rejoice in the Lord. O that sinners would cease from the earth, and they that work iniquity, that they should be no more. Bless the Lord, O my soul.

The sun knoweth his going down. Thou appointedst the darkness, and there was the night. How magnified are Thy works, O Lord! In wisdom hast Thou made them all.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; both now and ever, and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia. Glory to Thee, O God. (THRICE)
O our God and our Hope, glory to Thee!

“O LORD, I HAVE CRIED” IN TONE FOUR

Choir: O Lord, I have cried out unto Thee, hear Thou me; hear Thou me, O Lord. O Lord, I have cried out unto Thee, hear Thou me. Give ear to the voice of my supplication when I cry out unto Thee: hear Thou me, O Lord.

Choir: Let my prayer be set forth before Thee as the incense, and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice; hear Thou me, O Lord.

- + Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and a protecting door round about my lips.
- + Incline not my heart to evil words, to make excuses in sins.
- + With men that work iniquity; and I will not communicate with the choicest of them.
- + The just man shall correct me in mercy and shall reprove me; but let not the oil of the sinner anoint my head.
- + For my prayer also shall still be against the things with which they are well pleased; their judges falling upon the rock have been swallowed up.

- + They shall hear my words, for they are sweet; as when the thickness of the earth is broken upon the ground, their bones are scattered by the side of hell.
- + But to Thee, O Lord, Lord, are mine eyes; in Thee have I put my trust, take not away my soul.
- + Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me, and the traps of the workers of iniquity.
- + Let the wicked fall into their own nets, whilst I alone escape.
- + I cried unto the Lord with my voice, with my voice unto the Lord, did I make my supplication.
- + I poured out my supplication before Him; I showed before Him my trouble.
- + When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, then Thou knewest my path.
- + In the way wherein I walked have they secretly laid a snare for me.
- + I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but there was no man that would know me.
- + Refuge failed me; no one cared for my soul.
- + I cried unto Thee, O Lord; I said: Thou art my refuge and my portion in the land of the living.
- + Attend unto my cry, for I am brought very low.
- + Deliver me from my persecutors, for they are stronger than I.

Verse 10. Bring my soul out of prison, that I may praise Thy name.

Verse 9. The righteous shall wait for me until Thou recompense me.

Verse 8. Out of the depths have I cried to Thee, O Lord, Lord hear my voice.

Verse 7. Let Thine ears be attentive to the voice of my supplication.

For St. Matthew in Tone Four (Thou who wast called from on high)

Verse 6. If Thou, O Lord, shouldest mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand? For with Thee there is forgiveness.

When He that plumbeth the hearts of men, O Matthew, by divine foreknowledge saw thy will to godliness, He freed thee from the iniquity of the unjust world; and then He made thee a universal light, that thou mightest go forth and enlighten brilliantly the farthest regions of all the world, O great Apostle; He also bid thee become pre-eminent, for thou wast counted worthy to record His divine and august Gospel for the world. Do thou therefore entreat Him to enlighten and to save our souls.

Verse 5. Because of Thy Name have I waited for Thee, O Lord; my soul hath waited upon Thy word, my soul hath hoped in the Lord.

When He that plumbeth the hearts of men ... (repeat above)

Verse 4. From the morning watch until night, from the morning watch let Israel trust in the Lord. Called from a publican unto a disciple, when thou wast called by the Word Who is without beginning, and when He urged thee to follow Him and gave thee promise to make thee share in His Kingdom with Himself, then, O blessed Matthew, thou didst leave all things behind, withdrawing far from all turbulence and worldly turmoil; and thou didst zealously follow after Him. Now thou art filled with the ineffable and divine vision of Him, O seer of God. Do thou therefore entreat Him to enlighten and to save our souls.

Verse 3. For with the Lord there is mercy and with Him is abundant redemption, and He will deliver Israel from all his iniquities.

Called from a publican unto a disciple ... (repeat above)

Verse 2. Praise the Lord, all ye nations; praise Him, all ye people.

Of old, a man who possessed prophetic foresight saw thee, O Apostle, as a great and holy stone that rolled upon the earth, grinding down the machinations of dark deception that overthrow the soul; for, O all-wise Matthew, the enhypostatic Word made thee a light of the entire world and a great herald of truth and righteousness brightly made to shine with the clear splendor and magnificence of the Light of Three Suns, O all-honored one. Do thou therefore entreat Him to enlighten and to save our souls.

Verse 1. For His mercy is great toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever.

Of old, a man who possessed prophetic ... (repeat above)

DOXASTICON OF ST. MATTHEW IN TONE FOUR

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

When Christ called thee to a heavenly discipleship, O inspired of God, then thou didst follow Him eagerly, laying aside at once all preoccupation with earthly care. Thou didst obediently take on a mind worthy of the Kingdom on high, abandoning a groveling life and empty glory. From a publican, thou didst become an evangelist, a light to those in darkness, and a guide unto salvation for them that were astray; and now thou art a fervent intercessor for the whole world, O Matthew, and a saving guardian for them that honor thee.

THEOTOKION IN TONE FOUR

Both now and ever, and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Thou didst conceive in thy womb the world's Creator, Who took flesh and formed anew the race of man that fell through the transgression in ancient times by serpent's counsel, O all-pure Lady, who art divinely blessed. For thou gavest birth to God the Word ineffably and by thy childbirth didst liberate from its corruption all of decayed nature, which was waxen old; wherefore, we praise and glorify thy race, whereby shelter and save and protect from harm, O pure Virgin unwedded, them that glorify thee faithfully.

THE HOLY ENTRANCE

(While the Doxasticon is chanted, the following dialogue occurs QUIETLY as the clergy make the entrance.)

Deacon: Let us pray to the Lord. Lord, have mercy.

Priest: In the evening and in the morning and at noonday we praise Thee, we bless Thee, we give thanks unto Thee, and we pray unto Thee, O Master of all, Lord Who lovest mankind: Direct our prayer as incense before Thee, and incline not our hearts unto words or thoughts of evil, but deliver us from all who seek after our souls. For unto Thee, O Lord, Lord, are our eyes, and in Thee have we hoped. Put us not to shame, O our God. For unto Thee are due all glory, honor, and worship: to the Father and to the Son and to the Holy Spirit; now and ever, and unto ages of ages.

Deacon: Amen.

(When the clergy reach the center of the soleia, the first part of the great censuring begins. After the first part of the great censuring is completed, this next dialogue occurs QUIETLY.)

THE APOSTICHA FOR ST. MATTHEW IN TONE FOUR (As one valiant)

With the clarion of thy words thou didst muster the sons of men to the saving knowledge of God, O all-renowned Matthew; and the assemblies of error thou didst terrify off the earth but didst guide all faithful folk into concord and unity. Now thou prayest Christ to deliver from perils and corruption them that faithfully do honor thine ever venerable memory.

Verse 1. His sound hath gone forth into all the earth, and his words unto the ends of the world.

Having armed and provided thee with that tongue of the Spirit's fire, Christ our God then made thee a mighty man of war against deception and error, O apostle Matthew; and from His hands hast thou now received the prize and the shining rewards of grace. Him do thou entreat to deliver from perils and corruption them that faithfully do honor thine ever-venerable memory.

Verse 2. The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament proclaimeth the work of His hands.

Looking into the Spirit's depths, thou, O Matthew, didst there perceive riches that are endless and inexhaustible; and, O apostle, from thence thou drewest forth His abundant grace, giving it unto us all through the Gospel of holy fame. Now thou prayest Christ to deliver from perils and corruption them that faithfully do honor thine ever venerable memory.

DOXASTICON OF ST. MATTHEW IN TONE SIX

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

From the abyss of the uttermost wickedness, thou didst marvelously soar up to the loftiest height of virtue like a high-flying eagle, O all-famed Matthew; for when thou didst follow in the footsteps of Christ, Who hath covered the heavens with virtue, and filled all the earth with His understanding, thou wast shown to be His fiery imitator in all things, preaching the good tidings of peace, life and salvation to them that piously obey the divine commands; wherein do thou guide us, that we may prove well-pleasing to the Creator, and may call thee blessed.
