THE PSALM OF INTRODUCTION—PSALM 103

Reader: Bless the Lord, O my soul; O Lord my God, Thou hast been magnified exceedingly. Confession and majesty hast Thou put on, Who coverest Thyself with light as with a garment, Who stretchest out the heaven as it were a curtain; Who supporteth His chambers in the waters, Who appointeth the clouds for His ascent, Who walketh upon the wings of the winds, Who maketh His angels spirits, and His ministers a flame of fire.

Who establisheth the earth in the sureness thereof; it shall not be turned back forever and ever. The abyss like a garment is His mantle; upon the mountains shall the waters stand. At Thy rebuke they will flee, at the voice of Thy thunder shall they be afraid.

The mountains rise up and the plains sink down, unto the place where Thou hast established them. Thou appointedst a bound that they shall not pass, neither return to cover the earth. He sendeth forth springs in the valleys; between the mountains will the waters run. They shall give drink to all the beasts of the field; the wild asses will wait to quench their thirst. Beside them will the birds of the heaven lodge, from the midst of the rocks will they give voice.

He watereth the mountains from His chambers; the earth shall be satisfied with the fruit of Thy works. He causeth the grass to grow for the cattle, and green herb for the service of men, to bring forth bread out of the earth; and wine maketh glad the heart of man. To make his face cheerful with oil; and bread strengtheneth man's heart.

The trees of the plain shall be satisfied, the cedars of Lebanon, which Thou hast planted. There will the sparrows make their nests; the house of the heron is chief among them. The high mountains are a refuge for the harts, and so is the rock for the hares.

He hath made the moon for seasons; the sun knoweth his going down. Thou appointedst the darkness, and there was the night, wherein all the beasts of the forest will go abroad; young lions roaring after their prey, and seeking their food from God. The sun ariseth, and they are gathered together, and they lay them down in their dens. Man shall go forth unto his work, and to his labor until the evening. How magnified are Thy works, O Lord! In wisdom hast Thou made them all.

The earth is filled with Thy creation. So is this great and spacious sea, wherein are things creeping innumerable, small living creatures with the great. There go the ships; there this leviathan, whom Thou hast made to play therein. All things wait on Thee, to give them their food in due season; when Thou givest it them, they will gather it. When Thou openest Thy hand, all things shall be filled with goodness; when Thou turnest away Thy face, they shall be troubled.

Thou wilt take their spirit, and they shall cease; and unto their dust shall they return. Thou wilt send forth Thy Spirit, and they shall be created; and Thou shalt renew the face of the earth.

Let the glory of the Lord be unto the ages; the Lord will rejoice in His works. Who looketh on the earth and maketh it tremble, Who toucheth the mountains and they smoke. I will sing unto the Lord throughout my life, I will chant to my God for as long as I have my being.

May my words be sweet unto Him; I will rejoice in the Lord. O that sinners would cease from the earth, and they that work iniquity, that they should be no more. Bless the Lord, O my soul.

The sun knoweth his going down. Thou appointedst the darkness, and there was the night. How magnified are Thy works, O Lord! In wisdom hast Thou made them all.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit; both now and ever, and unto ages of ages. Amen.

Alleluia, Alleluia, Alleluia. Glory to Thee, O God. (THRICE)
O our God and our Hope, glory to Thee!

“O LORD, I HAVE CRIED” IN TONE FOUR

Choir: O Lord, I have cried out unto Thee, hear Thou me; hear Thou me, O Lord. O Lord, I have cried out unto Thee, hear Thou me. Give ear to the voice of my supplication when I cry out unto Thee: hear Thou me, O Lord.

Choir: Let my prayer be set forth before Thee as the incense, and the lifting up of my hands as the evening sacrifice; hear Thou me, O Lord.

- + Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth, and a protecting door round about my lips.
- + Incline not my heart to evil words, to make excuses in sins.
- + With men that work iniquity; and I will not communicate with the choicest of them.
- + The just man shall correct me in mercy and shall reprove me; but let not the oil of the sinner anoint my head.
- + For my prayer also shall still be against the things with which they are well pleased; their judges falling upon the rock have been swallowed up.
- + They shall hear my words, for they are sweet; as when the thickness of the earth is broken upon the ground, their bones are scattered by the side of hell.
- + But to Thee, O Lord, Lord, are mine eyes; in Thee have I put my trust, take not away my soul.

- + Keep me from the snare which they have laid for me, and the traps of the workers of iniquity.
- + Let the wicked fall into their own nets, whilst I alone escape.
- + I cried unto the Lord with my voice, with my voice unto the Lord, did I make my supplication.
- + I poured out my supplication before Him; I showed before Him my trouble.
- + When my spirit was overwhelmed within me, then Thou knewest my path.
- + In the way wherein I walked have they secretly laid a snare for me.
- + I looked on my right hand, and beheld, but there was no man that would know me.
- + Refuge failed me; no one cared for my soul.
- + I cried unto Thee, O Lord; I said: Thou art my refuge and my portion in the land of the living.
- + Attend unto my cry, for I am brought very low.
- + Deliver me from my persecutors, for they are stronger than I.

Verse 10. Bring my soul out of prison, that I may praise Thy Name.

Verse 9. The righteous shall wait for me until Thou recompense me.

Verse 8. Out of the depths have I cried to Thee, O Lord, Lord hear my voice.

Verse 7. Let Thine ears be attentive to the voice of my supplication.

For St. Peter in Tone Four (As one valiant)

Verse 6. If Thou, O Lord, shouldst mark iniquities, O Lord, who shall stand? For with Thee there is forgiveness.

All delusion thou boundest fast, * O Apostle, when thou thyself * wast bound up and thrown into prison for the Lord. * Wherefore, with longing we honor thee and rev'rence thy chains with faith; * and in drawing forth there from * health of body and mighty grace * that doth save the soul, * as is due, we extol thee, O thou rival of the bodiless assemblies, * thrice-blessed Peter, thou seer of God.

Verse 5. Because of Thy Name have I waited for Thee, O Lord; my soul hath waited upon Thy word, my soul hath hoped in the Lord.

All delusion thou boundest fast ... (repeat above)

Verse 4. From the morning watch until night, from the morning watch let Israel trust in the Lord. Through thy means have the scattered tribes * of the nations, which formerly * were caught fast in ignorance, come to know our God. * Of them a type was revealed when once a vessel containing all * living creatures was brought down * from the heights, O all-blessed one. * Wherefore, every age * glorifieth and worshippeth the chains which thou didst wear, O wise Apostle, * with fervent zeal in behalf of Christ.

Verse 3. For with the Lord there is mercy and with Him is abundant redemption, and He will deliver Israel from all his iniquities.

Through thy means have the scattered tribes ... (repeat above)

Verse 2. Praise the Lord, all ye nations; praise Him, all ye people.

Him Whom thou didst deny when judged * didst thou praise when He rose again * from the dead, O Peter, and unto all the world * thou wentest forth and didst preach that He is truly both God and man, * Who conversed with mortal men * in His goodness, which hath no end. *

Wherefore, now with love * we all bless thee, while worshipping the chains which thou didst wear, O wise Apostle, * for Christ our God, O all-lauded one.

Verse 1. For His mercy is great toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth forever.
Him Whom thou didst deny when judged ... (repeat above)

DOXASTICON OF ST. PETER IN TONE SIX

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Today Peter, the pinnacle of the Church, the rock of the Faith, setteth before us his precious chains for the welfare of our souls. Come, let us all fall down before them, and let us crown him with songs of praise. Rejoice, thou fervent champion of the Faith, who with fervor of understanding didst boldly confess Christ to be the Son of God. Rejoice, exceeding gladness of the whole world, and keeper of the keys of the Kingdom of the Heavens. Grant grace unto them that honor thee with longing and fall down before thy venerable chains; for since thou standest before the throne of God, the Sovereign of all, thou makest intercession for us sinners.

THE APOSTICHA FOR ST. PETER IN TONE FOUR (Unto them that fear Thee)

Come ye, let us worship now the precious chains whereby all the bonds * of the passions have been destroyed; * for through the ineffable * gifts of all-wise Peter * have his chains been solemnly sanctified in very truth * and have received from him everflowing grace. * They cut asunder all the binding cords of sorrows and trespasses, * granting loosing from every ill * through the grace God hath given him.

Verse 1. His sound hath gone forth into all the earth, and his words unto the ends of the world.

O all-lauded Peter, Chief of the Apostles, thy chain doth shine * like a line reaching to the heights, * by which we are led from earth * to the gates of Heaven; * and in faith we come to thee, O thou wondrous and most wise, * as the illustrious keeper of the keys. * Entrusted with the keys, then, of the Kingdom, open thou unto us * in thy mercy the entry-way * to salvation and blessedness.

Verse 2. The heavens declare the glory of God, and the firmament proclaimeth the work of His hands.

On this day the ranks of Angels join with mortals and joyously * sing thy praises with one accord. * For when the Lord’s Angel came, * smote thy side, and woke thee, * thou didst flee the guard and the chain of thy captivity, * leaving thy bonds unto them that bound thee up. * And now, O all-wise Peter, as thou dost bestow this great joy on us, * thou dost break the unbreakable * bonds of sin that condemned us once.

DOXASTICON OF ST. PETER IN TONE SIX

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit.

Once again, that fervent champion, Peter, the rock of faith, riseth up together with us for spiritual feasting; and he setteth before us his venerable chain like a costly delicacy, for the healing of maladies, for the comfort of the afflicted, and as a haven for the storm-tossed. Come, let us all embrace it, and let us beseech Him Who hath glorified him: By his prayers, O Christ, save our souls.

THEOTOKION IN TONE SIX (Having laid up all their hope)

Both now and ever, and unto ages of ages. Amen.

By my will, I slipped and fell * and was brought into subjection * by the sly deceiver's guile; * yet, all-wretched as I am, * I flee unto thee, * and thy most marvelous * tender-loving kindness, * and thy fervent prayer, O Bride of God. * Rescue me from the bonds * of afflictions, trials, and sufferings; * and from the demons' fierce assaults * save me, that with love I may worship thee, * and extol and praise thee, * and magnify and glorify thy name, * O ever-blest and all-holy Maid, * Lady all-immaculate.

THE HYMN OF ST. SIMEON THE GOD-RECEIVER
